American Library Association/Library Administration and Management Association Diana V. Braddom FRFDS Scholarship Program

Program: A division of the American Library Association, the Library Administration and Management Association works to encourage the study of administrative theory, improve the practice of administration in libraries, and identify and foster administrative skill. As part of its mission, LAMA administers the Diana V. Braddom FRFDS Scholarship program, which provides librarians and/or staff members from all types of libraries with the opportunity to learn new fundraising skills that enable them to increase support for their libraries from public, private, and corporate sources. The Braddom FRFDS Scholarship is available to librarians and/or staff members who have had no previous formal financial development training and have a genuine need for fundraising skills.

Award size: $1,000 stipend. Funds:

Number of awards: 2

Deadline: January 2, 2003.

Eligible: Applicants must be employed by a public, academic, multi-type, school, special, or

EDUCATION

Department of Education

National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP)--Secondary Analysis Program

Program:

The purpose of the program is to encourage the preparation of reports that would not otherwise be available and that apply new approaches to the analysis and reporting of the NAEP and NAEP High School Transcript Studies data. Analyses and reports prepared under this program should potentially be useful to the general public, parents, educators, educational researchers, or policy makers. NAEP is particularly interested in applications that meet one or more of the following invitational priorities.

- ✓ Invitational Priority 1--Analysis projects that use NAEP achievement data alone or in combination with other data sets to produce reports designed to assist policy makers and educators in the educational improvement process.
- ✓ Invitational Priority 2--Projects designed to assist NAEP users in the analysis, interpretation and reporting of State and district-level NAEP results.
- ✓ Invitational Priority 3--Projects that include the development of methodological or analytic procedures which improve precision in the estimation and reporting of NAEP results.
- ✓ Invitational Priority 4--Projects to analyze and report data using statistical software developed by the project to permit more advanced analytic techniques to be readily applied to NAEP data.

Funds: Number of Awards: 6-8.

Average Size of Awards: $85,000.

NONPROFITS & SOCIAL CHANGE

Council on Foundations

Emerging Philanthropic Leaders Fellowships

Program:

The Emerging Philanthropic Leaders Fellowship, a program of the Council on Foundations, is designed to help future foundation leaders become more effective within their communities and the larger field of organized philanthropy. The program seeks to assist organizations that are establishing philanthropic programs learn more about institutional philanthropy and organizational development while maintaining their own culturally and ethnically appropriate forms of giving. Every year, the program offers two-year fellowships to two individuals. Each fellow is matched with a mentor who is a recognized leader in philanthropy. Fellows are asked to identify their professional growth goals and the organizational development needs they would like to address as part of the fellowship. The mentors, drawn from the Council's membership, are asked to help develop two-year plans for providing information, advice, and referrals. Each fellow receives regular telephone and e-mail communication with his/her mentor; support to attend two Council on Foundations-sponsored conferences over the two years of the fellowship; travel costs to tour the mentor's organization and observe the daily grantmaking and operational functions of a traditional foundation; assistance with organizational development through a site visit to the fellow's organization by either the mentor or an approved management consultant; and support to purchase personal growth and organizational development books and other resources.

Funds: See above.

Deadline: December 31, 2002.

Eligible: Nominees and applicants must have at least two years' experience in the philanthropic arena, with at least one year in a leadership position. In addition, the nominee or applicant's organization must have a focus on increasing and expanding philanthropic programs within communities that are historically underrepresented in institutional philanthropy. Nominees or applicants must be associated with a Council on Foundations member or member-eligible organization.

W.K. Kellogg Foundation

Health, Food Systems and Rural Development, Youth and Education, and Philanthropy and Volunteerism Grants

Program:

Since the Foundation was established in 1930, its United States programming has centered on health, education, and agriculture. Each programming area has a goal that guides the Foundation staff, Board of Trustees, and advisers in grantmaking decisions. Current U.S. programming goals are described as follows:

- ✓ Health: The goal is to improve the health of people in communities through increased access to integrated, comprehensive health care systems that are organized around public health, prevention, and primary health care, and which are guided, managed, and staffed by a broad range of appropriately prepared personnel.
- ✓ Food Systems and Rural Development: Food Systems and Rural Development at the Kellogg Foundation fills a programming niche addressed by few other major foundations. The food systems component is concerned with community-based, economically viable, and environmentally responsible food production systems and their contribution to the health and well-being of people and communities. The rural development component is concerned with the economic and social sustainability of our rural communities communities rapidly deteriorating due to isolation, out-migration, and lack of new investment.
- ✓ Youth and Education: A primary goal in this area is to support healthy infant, child, and youth development by mobilizing, strengthening, and aligning systems that affect children's learning.
- ✓ Philanthropy and Volunteerism: Long committed to enhancing the field of philanthropy, current programming is designed to increase the ranks of new givers and to nurture emerging form of philanthropy

Funds: Grant sizes vary.

Deadline: NA.

Eligible: Nonprofits.

TECHNOLOGY

Hewlett-Packard Company

Microenterprise Development Program

Program:

HP is launching the Microenterprise Development Program, a new grant initiative targeting nonprofit microenterprise development agencies that serve clients in low-income communities in the United States. The goal of the program is to make these agencies more efficient and effective and assist them in providing their clients with access to technology and associated training to optimize its use. By partnering with these agencies to build their capacity, HP seeks to build long-term productive capacity in these organizations and the communities they serve. HP also seeks to assist the microenterprise industry in the U.S. through supporting best practices in the use of technology for microenterprise development. In determining awardees, priority consideration will be given to agencies that clearly demonstrate the following:

- ✓ Thoughtful and innovative organizational technology vision and plan;
- ✓ Breadth and diversity of partnership and support within the community;
- ✓ Capacity to execute and support the project.

Deadline: Proposals must be submitted via the internet between January 10 and January 24, 2003, no later than January 24 at 5:00 pm Pacific Time.

Funds: Average grant size: $150,000 to $300,000 in equipment, cash, services and support. In addition, recipients will receive a travel grant to participate in a symposium focused on increasing the capacity of the microenterprise development industry.
